What is the Data Security and Protection Toolkit?

An online self assessment of your organisation's data security

Demonstrates compliance with data protection legislation

Reviewed annually

Gives advice and is a checklist of good practice

Why do providers need to pay attention to this?

- Data and cyber security is important for safe sharing of records – especially with increased use of digital technology during the pandemic
- It will help you keep people's confidential information safe
- It will help protect your business from the risk of being fined for a data breach and from the disruption of a cyberattack
- The DSPT will demonstrate compliance with legal and CQC requirements
- It's often a contractual requirement from councils and the NHS
- The DSPT will be your passport to shared care records and other digital innovations with health services, enabling you to be part of a truly joined up care network with the interests of the people you support and care for at the centre

Why DSPT is Essential

Legal Compliance: Demonstrates adherence to Data Protection Legislation and Data Security Standards, vital for avoiding fines.

Builds Trust: Reassures service users, families, and staff that their sensitive information is secure, enhancing reputation.

Access to NHS Systems: Required for accessing NHSmail and shared care records, enabling integrated care.

CQC Compliance: Helps answer CQC questions about data governance, impacting quality ratings.

Cyber Resilience: Helps providers implement security measures against increasing cyber threats.

Contractual Requirement: Often a prerequisite for NHS contracts, tenders, and partnerships.

Consequences of Not Having or Getting it Wrong

- Data Breaches & Fines: Increased risk of breaches, leading to ICO investigations and significant fines.
- Regulatory Issues: Fails CQC inspections, especially regarding well-led and governance criteria.
- Loss of Services: Inability to use NHS digital tools like NHSmail.
- Reputational Damage: Loss of public and partner trust, damaging brand and business.
- Business Disruption: Difficulty securing contracts and maintaining partnerships.
- Legal Action: Potential breaches of GDPR and other laws.

In essence, the DSPT isn't just a formality; it's a core requirement for safe, legal, and effective digital operation in modern social care, with serious repercussions for non-compliance

CQC's Chief Digital & Data Officer said:

“CQC will increasingly expect a good provider to comply with the Data Security and Protection Toolkit or equivalent, as a minimum. This also applies where you use a combination of digital and paper record systems.”

Mobile devices

Including smartphones and tablets these are devices increasingly being used by care providers to access and manage care data. As they leave the safety of a fixed working environment, they often need additional protection.

‘A small Domiciliary care service in Leicester, were left stunned after a phishing attack breached their email server and gained access to carer’s personal devices, getting their hands on banking information which had devastating consequences.’

Evidence item 7.1.1

Do you have a digital asset register detailing your organisation's hardware and software , which is kept up to date?

This digital asset register is a list of the digital devices (hardware) and computer software your organisation uses. The register should have been reviewed at least once in the last twelve months.

You can have a separate list of digital assets or combine it into one document with your Information Asset Register (see 1.1.2.).

Evidence item 4.3.1

☐ Have all the administrators of your organisation's IT system(s) signed an agreement to hold them accountable to higher standards?

The people within your organisation who are IT system administrators may have access to more information than other staff. Therefore, they need to be held accountable in a formal way to higher standards of confidentiality than others.

This requirement applies to IT system administrators working in external companies who support your organisation's IT systems. This formal agreement could be part of a job description or a contract with your IT support company and/or systems supplier/s.

If your organisation does not use any IT systems, then 'tick' and write ""Not applicable"" in the comments box.
